

Volunteer Role Description

Graphic Designer

Signal works with people who are deaf, have hearing loss and those who experience tinnitus. Our work takes place in the UK, in Shropshire, where we are based, and internationally in sub-Saharan Africa, where we have projects in Malawi, Tanzania, Uganda and Zambia. We welcome volunteers from all backgrounds and walks of life.

Role Description

Do you have graphic design experience and a keen eye for powerful design?

We are looking for a volunteer with graphic design expertise to help improve our branding and marketing. This will include making infographics, marketing material and helping us update our logo.

Location: Working from home, so you can be based anywhere.

Hours: Ideally around 4 or more hours per week, but these hours can be flexible to fit around your commitments.

What we offer

- The opportunity to use your skills and knowledge to support a small charity working in the UK and Internationally
- Prospect of building experience for a CV – we give references for committed volunteers
- A dedicated volunteer line manager and volunteer coordinator looking after you
- Induction training and ongoing support

What we ask from you

- A creative approach with an eye for design
- To be proactive and keen to improve current ideas
- To work alongside our small friendly team
- Happy to use Zoom or Teams for meetings
- Access to a computer, laptop, or tablet with internet access
